

MORE SPECIFIC 2007 NEWS HEADLINES :

- Islamists battle Wyoming, west South Dakota and north Nebraska army
- East Tennessee military tests nuclear capable warhead
- 200 killed in New Orleans suicide bombing
- Thousands gather in north west New Jersey for anti-California march
- UN warns of potential new genocide in western Colorado and east Utah
- South central Colorado president declares a "state of siege"
- 700 UN troops spark major gun battle in north west Arizona slum
- Ethnic Uighur Muslim activist is executed in north west Iowa for "attempting to split the motherland"
- Chicago cardinal says Washington D.C.'s refusal to recognize the authority of the Vatican is an "act of war"
- Nuke detectors to ring most populated California city, official says
- Northern Michigan deploys missile defense to protect the capital in the event of a north Minnesota nuclear strike
- South central Wyoming president survives assassination attempt
- Thousands of protesters across the continent march against east Louisiana war
- 50 people wounded in clashes between rival political groups in western Virginia
- Fifty years since Treaty of New York City, the New England Union acquires army
- Maoist rebels kill 50 policemen in North Carolina
- 250 people killed during last six days of fighting in northeast New Mexico capital
- Civilians flee east central North Carolina war
- California president greeted by clashes in Florida
- Bay county troops in Florida panhandle raid Waltonian military headquarters in Walton county
- Northeast Wisconsin test fires cruise missile capable of hitting Chicago and Washington D.C.
- Nebraska leader upset that his government has not been compensated for giving up its nuclear program
- Proposed law in south Texas would imprison anyone supporting gay and lesbian rights
- Bay county troops in Florida panhandle trade gunfire with Walton County
- Alaska and Montana President warn that California missile defense in New England would raise the risk of "mutual destruction"
- More than 170 terror suspects arrested in south Alabama and Mississippi
- Human rights group Amnesty International says east Tennessee has more people imprisoned facing execution than any other place on the continent
- After nine days of battle, south Utah's troops seize control of northeast New Mexico's capital
- Hawaii militants decapitate seven hostages
- 27 million dollar creationist museum opens in California
- The Carolinas test-fire their longest-range nuclear ballistic missile
- Northeast Michigan's government bans YouTube after citizens upload videos critical of the king
- Political crisis looms in west Pennsylvania as the prime minister calls the president's decision to dissolve parliament a "fatal mistake"
- North central Georgia and west Tennessee renew their claim to Cumberland Island on the 25th anniversary of its invasion by Massachusetts
- Terror attacks across the continent rise by 40% last year and accounted for more than 20,000 deaths
- Bay county Florida launches air strikes on Walton county

- North Minnesota test fires missile into Lake Superior
- 40 people killed in fighting between Gulf county troops and gunmen from Walton county refugee camp in Florida panhandle
- North West Michigan's lower house of parliament approves new law requiring schools to teach children to be patriotic
- Bay county launches air strike against the home of a leader of the Waltonian militant group
- Bomb hits historic Carolina mosque
- California Vice-President issues a warning to west Louisiana from aircraft carrier deck in the Gulf
- Montana and Alaska government tests sea based ballistic missile capable of breaching anti-missile defense systems
- Amnesty International calls on west Louisiana to halt executions of child offenders
- East Louisiana condemns south Arkansas for shelling rebels near its border
- California prepares for major arms deal with Mississippi, Alabama and other Gulf states worth $20 billion over the next decade
- Head of California forces in east Louisiana warns that defeating the insurgency could take decades
- Walton county TV station in Florida panhandle, kills off controversial Mickey Mouse look alike who spread anti-California and anti-Bay county messages to children
- 100 Tennessee soldiers captured by pro-Taliban militants have been found in south Kentucky
- Northwest New York fires at Montana plane
- Thousands of civilians flee their homes in Hawaii to escape deadly clashes between troops and militants
- Shots are fired across the border between north and south central Minnesota
- Several hundred people protest in south Minnesota's main city despite three days of crackdowns on pro-democracy protests
- West Louisiana's president criticizes "illegal" UN Security Council sanctions against his country at California UN speech
- Terror leader calls for holy war in Tennessee
- In response to continued rocket attacks by Waltonian militants, Bay County Florida declares the Walton Strip a "hostile entity"
- Southern Minnesota army recruiting children
- Thousands clash with police in the east Missouri capital to protest proposed constitutional revisions
- Two candidates from regional elections in west Missouri have been murdered, bringing the total of candidates killed during the campaign to 21
- Air Force relieves several officers of their commands after a B-52 bomber loaded with nuclear-armed missiles was mistakenly flown across California
- At least 130 people are killed in Tennessee suicide bomb attack targeting the former prime minister
- Mississippi and Alabama arrest 208 suspected militants accused of planning a series of terror attacks
- Northwest Texas police kill as many as 8,040 people by execution or torture
- Days of air attacks in southern Utah and north Arizona cause mounting casualties among civilians
- 'One million' are now homeless in north east New Mexico
- Emergency rule in east Tennessee cuts 30 TV news channels
- Carolinas launch war games with another of continents largest standing armies
- Nebraska Islamists 'join al-Qaeda'
- Former east Tennessee prime minister is assassinated in suicide attack

www.earthpledge.net

2007 HEADLINES WITH AMERICA AS THE WORLD

Imagine the poverty of millions in the midwest surviving on a dollar a day or less. Imagine the impossibility of expecting millions of east Louisiana refugees to return to New Orleans when suicide bombings there have killed thousands of people in a bloody civil war. Now imagine that all America's states spend close to a combined 1 trillion dollars a year preparing for the next continental war which they believe can be won with weapons of mass destruction.

Picture the dire situation of this fragmented America living under the shadow of nuclear anarchy at a time when resentment towards California's imperialistic use of force across the continent continues to build. In this alternate universe, wouldn't you love to get in the face of every single person on the continent perpetuating this insanity and shout, "Wake up! Open your eyes and see that you should all be united, living in peace and prosperity. Such a shame that your narrow patriotism blinds you from seeing your full potential."

We are lucky America isn't like the world. It is a good thing that in the United States, we don't have to worry about California waging a preemptive strike on West Louisiana. We don't have to worry about millions of refugees fleeing South Dakota to escape a horrendous genocide. There are no fears of brutal dictators in the Midwest crushing opposition parties seeking democratic reform. We have eliminated war within our borders and the balance of resources along with the infrastructure keeps millions of people content in their own state rather than inciting them to flee in a mass exodus to another.

If America were like the world, these are some of the events we'd be following in the news.

- California has waged a "war on terror" since 2001. Its occupation of east Louisiana and Kentucky has resulted in the deaths of over half a million people.

- Dictators in northern Minnesota and west Louisiana seek to build nuclear weapons to deter the Golden State from invading them next.

- AIDS has killed millions in the Midwest while extreme poverty and malnutrition ravages much of the population. Civil wars have been raging here for decades and a new genocide in South Dakota has claimed several hundred thousand lives.

