

In Star Trek: Enterprise, First Contact and Strange New Worlds, the start of WWIII is cited as occurring in 2026, leading into the post-atomic horror of the mid-21st century. To finish the entire Star Trek franchise before World War III begins in the timeline—assuming the latest it starts is December 31, 2026—you’d need to watch about 2-3 episodes or movies per day, starting January 1st, 2026.

Suggested Daily Plan (2026-CALIBRATED)

Weekdays:

- Watch 2–3 episodes per day
(Most live-action episodes are ~45 minutes; animated episodes are shorter.)

Weekends:

- Watch 3 episodes, daily Consistency is Key

Flex Time:

- With the full canon spread across January 1 – December 31, 2026, this pace:
 - Completes the entire Star Trek canon within a single calendar year
 - Averages ~2.6 stories per day
 - Builds in buffer for holidays, illness, travel, or spontaneous marathons
 - Naturally benefits from shorter animated episodes
(TAS, Short Treks, Lower Decks, Prodigy)
